

POSITION DESCRIPTION: MĀTANGA WHAI ORA – HEALTH IMPROVEMENT PRACTITIONER

THIS POSITION DESCRIPTION IS SUPPORTED BY A ROLE SPECIFIC WORK PROGRAMME

Background	THINK Hauora is a network that designs, delivers and supports primary health care services across Otaki, Horowhenua, Manawatu and Taranaki. THINK Hauora has a strong focus on equity and a commitment to collaborating and partnering with others to improve outcomes for our communities. This position description (PD) captures the expected functions of the position and is refreshed annually. The PD is supported by an annual work programme.
Primary Functions	Mātanga Whai Ora – Health Improvement Practitioner: Primary Mental Health Clinician will work for THINK Hauora and its stakeholders to develop and utilise information to meet current and future strategic aims. The purpose of this role is to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Provide Brief Psychological Interventions centred primarily on evidence-based practices (e.g. CBT, MI and ACT) within a Stepped Care approach.</li> <li>• Promote Self-Management Skill Training and other relevant Interventions.</li> <li>• Liaise and organise mental health and addiction responses across primary mental health continuum (e.g. other community settings including secondary Mental Health, AOD services).</li> <li>• Offer a generalist approach to Primary Mental Health (e.g. monitoring of physical and mental health needs for Tangata Whaiora and whānau).</li> <li>• Co-ordinate access to Packages of Care opportunities where appropriate.</li> <li>• Work alongside General Practice Teams (GPTs) to provide co-ordination, education and immediate responses to mental health queries.</li> <li>• Provide access for Tangata Whaiora and whānau to E-therapy and other relevant self-management resources.</li> </ul>
Service Background	THINK Hauora is a respected and innovative provider of mental health services, making a positive difference and improving primary health wellbeing. Primary Mental Health services provided by THINK Hauora involves the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Service users having easy access to talking therapies and other psychosocial interventions through primary care settings that are closer to home.</li> <li>• Personalised, patient-centred primary care services that are delivered in closer relationship with social care.</li> <li>• Early intervention in the development of a mental health or substance use disorder, thereby making New Zealanders healthier and decreasing pressure on specialist mental health and Alcohol and other Drug (AOD) services.</li> <li>• Well-co-ordinated, collaborative care by multi-disciplinary teams.</li> <li>• Effective integration between primary and specialist mental health and AOD services to ensure a seamless patient experience and enable primary care practitioners to deliver a high quality primary mental health service supported by specialist clinicians.</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Effective integration between the services provided by PHOs, NGOs, and agencies outside of the Health sector to better meet the needs of vulnerable patients and to provide greater choice for service users.</li> <li>• Innovative use of new health technologies (eg, e-therapy) that improves service coverage</li> <li>• Concrete options for supporting patient self-care.</li> <li>• Flexibility of funding arrangements to best meet the needs of the population.</li> </ul> Primary Mental Health Care (PMHC) is important considering up to 75% of all mental health problems are addressed wholly or in part through primary health care services. The growth of PMHC has demonstrated that new ways of working lead to improvements in the standard of care. Guiding principles of PMHC service delivery: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Successful models often involve a multi-disciplinary approach</li> <li>2. Seek to offer choice and accept that choice cannot be limitless</li> <li>3. Is Tangata Whai Ora whānau centred</li> <li>4. Interface between primary and secondary service delivery critical</li> <li>5. Need to be able to respond to the needs of a culturally diverse society</li> </ol> THINK Hauora Primary Mental Health Services are focussed on providing a Stepped Care Approach. Stepped Care is a system of delivering and monitoring treatments so that the treatment that is most effective yet least resource-intensive is delivered to service users first. In a Stepped Care model: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• There are interventions of different levels of intensity available to the service user.</li> <li>• The service user's needs are matched with the level of intensity of the intervention.</li> <li>• There is careful monitoring of service user outcomes, allowing treatments to be 'stepped up' if required.</li> <li>• Service users usually move through less intensive interventions before receiving more intensive interventions (if necessary).</li> <li>• There are clear referral pathways between the different levels of intervention.</li> <li>• Supporting self-care is recognised as an important aspect of managing demand.</li> </ul> Stepped Care approach builds on existing Primary Mental Health activity with a focus on GP practices having the resources and the skills available to provide earlier interventions. THINK Hauora aligns the focus of Primary Mental Health service delivery to the actions communicated within Blue Print II - Improving Mental Health and Wellbeing for all New Zealanders (June 2012): <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Respond earlier and more effectively to mental health, addiction and behavioural issues.</li> <li>2. Improve equity of outcomes for different populations.</li> <li>3. Increase access to mental health and addiction resources</li> <li>4. Increase system performance and our effective use of resources</li> <li>5. Improve partnerships across the whole of government</li> </ol>
